

Good Bye

It's time to say goodbye and head back to The North Pole. I've had so much fun these past few weeks playing tricks on you and leaving messes (sorry mom & dad). I will give my final report to Santa to let him know if you've been naughty or nice and looking forward to seeing you again next year. Remember we are always watching so continue being good and helping others.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

Your Elf
